Young Captain Disobeyed Orders and Won Out.

There was a certain young officer-John Chisholm call him-who played poker occasionally. He commanded a "flivver," which is the service term for the smallest class of destroyers. the 750-ton ones.

In the navy there are plenty of peo ple who will tell you that they never built destroyers which keep the sea better than that same little flivver class, James B. Connolly writes in Collier's Weekly, Young Captain Chisholm of the 323 was one.

One morning, having convoyed in fleet of merchant ships safely to their port, the 323 was one of a group of Mrs. J. H. As she passed the 323 her commander megaphoned across: "What you making, Chiz?" "Twenty knots!" hailed back Chis-

"I'm seeing your twenty knots and raising you five!" returned the other, and passed into the lead. "All right," said Chiz, "but wait!"

The sea grew rougher. The 323 was bouncing pretty lively, but hanging on to her twenty knots. "And at twenty you let her hang if she rolls her crow's nest under!" said Chisholm to his watch officer-"and we won't be acting rudder to this bunch going into port!"

They were still going along at 20 knots when from out of the drizzle ahead they saw the stern and funnels of a destroyer. It was the big destroyer that had passed them, and the tough little 323 breasted her stern, her walst, her bridge and as he passed her (and he came quite close to let all hands view the passing) young Captain Chisholm leaned out from his bridge and halled: "Call

This same young flivver captain was hended for port in the usual hurry and was already well into the west channel just outside the port when a signal was whipped out from the sig nal tower. It was for this ship: "West channel mined last night by U-boats. Proceed to sea and come in by east channel."

Chiz did not proceed to sea, and he did not come in by the east channel. The harbor saw him come straight on to his mooring. Sald Chiz: "I was well into that channel when i got the signal. And, of course, the first instinct was to obey orders. But I stop and think: 'This ship of mine, she's 300 feet long and under her stern there's two big propellers. If ever I turn this 300 foot ship in this channel with those two propellers churning and there's any loose German mines around, there won't be a blamed one of them she'll miss. But If I keep her straight on there's a chance.' So 'Hell's fire!' I says to myself, 'the only thing to do is to keep straight on!' And I kept straight on, and we made our mooring."

After that they waited to hear what the admiralty had to say. But they heard nothing; whereupon some said that was due to the admiralty concluding that it is poor business to scold an officer who carries through a nervy piece of work.

All Reminded Him. A soldiers' chorus created some amusement at a Liverpool station recently. A man had just put his wife into a train, and was walking brisk-ly down the platform. Suddenly his wife's head appeared at the window, shouting in a high key: "Charles, don't forget the meat." But he walked on, without hearing. The lady raised her voice and fairly yelled: "Charles, don't forget the meat!" Still he didn't hear, and so a group of soldiers let off a stentorian bellow: "Charles!" The husband turned. And then the soldiers, in solemn chorus proclaimed: "Don't - forget - themeat!"

Voluntary Rationing. Controller Hoover congratulated a Washington gathering on the success of the voluntary rationing system.

"The observance of voluntary rationing has been universal," he said "I heard the other day of a tiny urchin on a picnic in the country who ran to his mother with tears in his eyes. "'What's the matter?' his mother asked.

"The urchin held out a swollen fin ger and shouted, indignantly: "Them bees! Today is a meatless Tuesday and them bees ain't observin'

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL

An Opportunity for Men Who May Be Called

Today schools are being opened to all men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years in which special training is being given in order that they may be in position to render more efficient service in the event they volunteer or are drafted. Enrolling in these classes does not mean that any man is to be singled out and drafted because of his identification with government work. It does mean, however, that he will in all probability be permitted to remain in school until he has volunteered or been drafted just as he would have been had he had no connection with government work.

The Kansas City Polytechnic Institute has enrolled white men in its various branches of engineering and in all cases they have been able to get preferred classification. Lincoln High School wants to

What does this special training mean to the recipient? It means this; you have specialized in some line of work that will be of value to the government and will therefore be preferred to those whose talents are not developed in any particular capacity. When a certain degree of efficiency has been reached cards will be issued showing what has been accomplished. If you volunteer or if you are drafted in the service your worth to the government is greater if you are trained than it could be otherwise. All special work begun in school is continued when the camp has been reached.

All men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years who are interested and would enroll in any of the following branches: RADIO ENGINEERING, AUTO MECHANICS, OPERATING OF MOTOR VEHICLES, DRAFTING AND AEROPLANE CARPENTRY, will signify their intention to do so by communicating with the Principal of Lin-coln High School or W. T. White, Department of Vocational Educa-tion, Lincoln High School, 19th Street and Tracy Avenue, Kansas City, Missouri. If it is not convenient to call in person, call Mr. White over Bell telephone, Grand 3469, between the hours of 6 and 9 P. M.

Kindly give address and telephone number when communicating. There should be no delay in so important a matter.
